It is gratifying to note that in the midst of all the bickering, the Tantalus park bill, which represents public spirit, is making good headway.

A representative of the Bureau of Labor and Commerce is in town. Though he is delegated to investigate labor he might also have an eye to ille gal combinations should there be any in this vicinity.

Stranger things might happen than Russia ostensibly listening to peace talk in order to gain time to strengthen its sadly broken armies, Whereupon Oyama's advancing hosts are a cn Jas. W. The man who says that the propose Tantalus Park will be a rich man's park, should take a few Sundays on Tantalus and note the class of people who now patronize the Heights. He would thus convince himself that he does not know what he is talking The proportion of working people to the wealthy and well-to-do patrons of Tantalus is as fifty to one.

The Promotion Committee refuses to endorse the Tantalus Park. The Promotion Committee, the success of whose efforts depends on the development of park areas and protection of natural tropical beauty! The Promotion Committee, supposed to promote public spirit and get the people together on matters of vital interest to the general welfare! This Promotion Committee will do well to secure some farsighted spectacles if this is the sort of Promotion it is Promoting at home.

THL HOUSE INVESTIGATION.

Give the morning paper a little Pinkham diet and it squeals like its progenitor,—the pig, impaled on a picket

The investigation of the Board of Health brought about by the Coelho resolution served to bring out a good share of the facts in connection with the legislative visit to the Molokai settlement. It is idle to hold that President Pinkham and the health of ficers were responsible for the issu ance of permits to visitors. The un truth of the situation is too obvious The legislative committee chartered the steamer, the expense is paid by the Legislature, the permits in the sued by the legislative committees. It has never been otherwise during leg

The question of who should be in charge of the settlement while the legislators were there is the only source of a difference of opinion. Judging from the past, the probabilities are that there would have been a bigger row had the Board of Health attempted to limit the permits issued by legislative committees or assumed a con trol over the movements of the people that even gave the appearance of exercising authority paramount to the

The witness said he had taken some interest in the question of prostitution. Chester Doyle had told him that Henry had planned to segregate the women in one place in Iwilei. The next day he called on Henry, who told him he had made such a plan for the protection of the community. Those found outside of the corral would be arrested.

The women at Iwilei, so Eseu, the Iwilei headman, had told Shiozawa, were being examined. He did not know if any Japanese physicians had applied to practice. The following letter on the Tantalus Park question explains itself: Honolulu, T. H., March 23, 1905.

Hon. Geo. R. Carter, Governor, Territory of Hawaii, City. Sir:—A Bill was recently introduced in the Legislature which contemplated the setting aside of certain Government properties on Tantalus and Punchbowl Heights, also at Waikiki, as public parks.

The proposed Tantalus reservation covers land at the head of Makiki Valley, having an area of about 177 acres, not including certain private properties used for residence purposes. It forms a water shed immediately tributary to the Government system in Makiki Valley which finally empties into the Makiki reservoir, and as far as I can ascertain, this important feature was not mentioned during the discussion of the Bill in the Senate. In view of certain improvements which, if carried out, will provide a gravity supply of wa-ter for the City of Honoiulu, it is certainly most essential that every precontamination of the water heads which are to be used.

The land in Nuuanu Valley above the entrance head to the Government re-servoirs was set aside by the Legislature several years ago, and there can be no question as to the desirability of such action where water sheds supplying water for drinking purposes are oncerned.

In planning our systems, the possible infection of the water heads is always considered of first importance, and large sums are frequently expended in the purchase of private lands surrounding streams used for city water supply.

In the present instance, the land is the property of the Government, and it seems to me, aside from the desirability of having a park on Tantalus Heights, the water question should be carefully investigated. Most all of the sites suitable for TURNED OFF; JUDD ABOUT residence purposes have already been acquired from the Government, and the remaining land is not of much value except for forest or park purposes.
